Life Paint
Color Selection

The following pages are Life Paint’s stock color selections that are available in the products that are advertised. These selections have been scanned or downloaded by a camera to represent the best possible color representation. With that said, there are many variables that can misrepresent a color such as, monitor types, monitor settings, printer types, printer settings, printer quality, ink types, paper types, etc. There are numerous possibilities of different outcomes of colors and therefore, Life Paint makes no guarantee of the color represented. We suggest that these selections be used as a guide and that an original hardcopy, found at your local distributor, be used to represent actual color.